

Relationship explanations
1.	A customer may have no or many service tickets, but a service ticket is associated with only one customer
2.	A car may be associated with no or many service tickets, but a service ticket is associated with only one car
3.	A car id may be associated with no or many service records, but there is only one service record associated with one car at a time
4.	A mechanic may have no or multiple service records, but only one mechanic is associated with one service record at a given time
5.	Only one car is associated with one invoice id at a time during the purchase phase of the car, same goes with the invoice id.
6.	Only one invoice is associated with one customer for each car, but a customer may be associated with either no or many invoices
7.	One salesperson is associated with one invoice at a given time, but a salesperson may have many or no invoices associated under their id.

